VARIETAL	VINTAGE	PRODUCER	REGION	GLASS
CHARDONNAY/PINOT NOIR	NV	CA'DEL BOSCO 'CUVEE PRESTIGE' FRANCIACORTA	LOMBARDIA	25.00
This magnificent sparkling wine from Lombardy offers the best one can anticipate from Champagne, but hails from one of the sparkling capitals of Italy, Lombardy. It attains creaminess, depth, complexity and incredible effervescence. It emanates style, exudes a sleek, polished texture and gloriously portrays balanced fruit and elegant acidity.
GLERA	N/V	NINO FRANCO 'RUSTICO' PROSECCO SUPERIORE	VENETO	13.00
This wonderful Prosecco offers very fine, pleasant bubbles caressing the palate. It is crisp and exudes courageously elegant, fresh, lively fruit and flowers with notes of bread dough and citrus. It has a fresh and toasty nose with pear and citrus fruit notes, followed by a persistent effervescence.
PINOT GRIGIO	2018	TORRE ROSAZZA	FRIULI	12.00
Straw-colored with golden reflections, floral on the nose with notes of apple and ripened pear. Well balanced with pleasant acidity and a good level of persistence.
PECORINO	2018	TERZINI	ABRUZZO	11.00
A very classic style is evident, showcasing an intense straw yellow color and an elegant floral bouquet of acacia and jasmine. Flavors of apple and pear are abundant with gentle thyme and very delicate anise. This Pecorino is dry with definite acidity and a radiant mineral rich finish.
GARGANEGA	2017	BUGLIONI 'il DISPERATO'	VENETO	10.50
Straw yellow in color, with a golden shimmer, this Garganega has intense aromas of flowers and tropical fruit, most notably pineapple and mango. It boasts great structure, is round on the mouth-feel, retains beautiful acidity and it exhibits exceptional balance.
VERMENTINO/TREBB/MOSC	2018	BIBI GRAETZ 'CASAMATTA' BIANCO	TOSCANA	9.50
This fresh, exhilarating wine appears bright in color with delicious aromas of green apple and lemon zest. The Vermentino offers clean, refreshing acidity and lends structure. The Moscato offers notes of wild flowers, while the Trebbiano balances the wine and offers a smooth, elongated finish.
VERDICCHIO	2018	ANDREA FELICI VERDICCHIO DEI CASTELLI DI JESI SUPERIORE	MARCHE	11.50
Andre Felici is a world-class producer of Italy's most age worthy white variety and farms organically from Jesi's highest altitude vineyards. This Verdicchio is aged in cement tanks for a brief period and notes of grapefruit and lemon zest explode onto the palate, followed by exhilarating minerality. This is a wonderful option for Chablis drinkers.
CORTESE	2018	VILLA SPARINA GAVI DI GAVI	PIEMONTE	11.00
Appearing straw yellow in color with fragrances of wild flowers and minerals, this Gavi Di Gavi also offers hints of peach, meyer lemon, thyme and ripe apple. It yields a full and rich mouth-feel with harmonious and noble aromas
CHARDONNAY	2018	ELIO GRASSO 'EDUCATO'	PIEMONTE	14.00
Glistening gold in the glass, this elegant and unassuming Chardonnay displays aromas on the nose, of caramel and subtle hints of butterscotch. The 'Educatto' is full bodied, with notes of nutmeg and honey. It appears crisp, lemony and rich, with just the perfect amount of oak.

ROSSO

NERELLO MASCALESE	2017	TENUTA TASCANTE 'GHIAIA NERA' ETNA ROSSO	SICILIA	12.50
Silky, soft and graceful epitomize the remarkable qualities in this Nerello Mascalese. This is a beautiful, lighter style red wine with great aromatics, highlighting red currant, cranberry, fresh cherry and delicate mint. The palate is alive with scintillating acidity begging for poultry, fish and younger style cheese and makes a perfect pairing with cured meats.
BARB/P NOIR/CAB SAUV/MER	2016	BRAIDA 'IL BACIALE' MONFERRATO ROSSO	PIEMONTE	13.00
'Il Baciato', in Piedmont translates to matchmaker; this wine in fact originates from the perfect marriage of Barbera, Pinot Noir, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot and is quite an original for Piedmont. A warm mouth feel presides, with plum, black pepper and cinnamon. It is an elegant and complex wine.
CARIGNANO	2017	MESA 'BUIO'	SARDEGNA	12.50
Paying tribute to the past, the Mesa 'Buio' exudes aromas of ripe plum and red currant. Spice and pepper notes are apparent on the finish, which is very characteristic of this grape variety. It is full on the palate with refreshing acidity and harmonious tannins culminating in an exhilarating, intense finish.
SANGIOVESE	2016	RODANO CHIANTI CLASSICO	TOSCANA	13.00
All organic, this elegant Chianti Classico is honest, bright and very attractive. It offers beautiful aromas of cherry and plum, followed by roses and fresh spice. It appears medium bodied with a deep ruby red color. This is well-balanced Chianti Classico and elegance and grace shine throughout.
MONTEPULCIANO	2015	LA VALENTINA 'SPELT'	ABRUZZO	13.50
This wine opens with hints of Mediterranean spices, though a pleasant, earthy, mineral tone can also be noted. It bestows a rush of sensations without losing quality and suggestions of blackcurrant and mulberry wait to combine with traces of coffee and cocoa.
CORVINA/ROND/MOL	2015	MASI 'CAMPOFIORIN'	VENETO	10.50
Smooth and velvety, yet approachable and versatile; this wine combines simplicity with style, strength and majesty. It exudes dark berries, dried cherries, plum with vanilla, cinnamon and spice notes.
CAB SAUV/SANG/CAB FRANC	2014	TOLAINI VALDISANTI	TOSCANA	15.00
On the palate, Valdisanti is full-bodied with deep but reserved fruit flavors framed by rich oak. The excellent balance of fruit intensity with fine tannins indicates a cellar worthy wine.

VINI in BOTTIGLIA

Wines of the North and Northwest

Between them, these five regions; Aosta Valley, Piedmont, Liguria, Lombardy and Emilia-Romagna produce about 20 percent of Italy's total wine but account for more than a quarter of the DOC. Piedmont's host of worthy natives includes Barbera, Dolcetto, Cortese, Arneis, Brachetto, the Canelli clone of Moscato and the noblest of them all in Nebbiolo (the source of Barolo, Barbaresco and Gattinara) among others. Emilia-Romagna had been a leading exporter of wines with shipments to America of sweet and bubbly Lambrusco, whose vines spill over the fertile plains of Emilia. The Alba area is renowned for its smooth, supple Dolcetto under several appellations, and for first-rate Nebbiolo and white Arneis from the Roero hills. Among whites, Gavi shows a crisp yet elegant style that explains why it also gains ground in Roero, where the light, zesty Favorita is also emerging.

Wines of the Northeast

The three northeastern regions, known collectively as the Tre Venezie or simply the Venezie, set the pace in Italy in the crafting of modern wines from a great range of varieties both native and international. Together Veneto, Friuli–Venezia Giulia and Trentino–Alto Adige produce less than a fifth of Italy's total volume of wine but account for about a third of the DOC. Veneto leads the way, due in great part to the Verona trio of Soave, Valpolicella and Bardolino. Although the culture of the Venezie, like the name, was determined by the ancient Venetian Republic, strong influences can be felt from Austria and the Balkans. One result is a cosmopolitan mix of vine varieties. Growers here work with an amazing assortment of native and imported vines to produce what are indisputably a majority of Italy's fine white wines and a multitude of reds, ranging from the young and simplistic to the aged and complex.

Wines of Central Italy

The historical hills at the heart of the peninsula, favored by ample sunshine and moderate temperatures, boast extensive natural conditions for fine wine. Today the central regions, led by Tuscany with Chianti, Brunello and other noble reds, have moved to the forefront of Italian winemaking. The realm of Sangiovese is Florence's region of Tuscany, where it prevails in Chianti, the nation's archetypal red, as well as in Brunello di Montalcino, Vino Nobile di Montepulciano and most of the noteworthy classified and many of the unclassified reds known as "Super Tuscans."

Wines of the South and the Islands

The six regions of Italy's south take in the "sunwashed" vineyards that prompted the ancient Greeks to nickname their colonies "Oenotria", the land of wine. From Hellas they brought to Magna Græcia vines, which are still planted today, under such names as Aglianico, Greco, Malvasia, Gaglioppo and Moscato. Many outsiders left their marks on these Mediterranean shores. Foremost among them were the Spaniards, who dominated until the Risorgimento and brought vines into Sardinia, Sicily and other places centuries after the Arabs and Phoenicians planted what may have been the first "foreign" vines in Italy. Studied techniques of grape growing and methods of temperature controlled fermentation and maturation in oxygen-free conditions have permitted production of dry, balanced wines that can be attractively light and fruity. Several of Italy's most impressive red wines for aging originate in the south, led by Campania's DOCG of Taurasi. White wines of modern style have also come forth. There has been a welcome trend to upgrade the quality and status of the traditional sweet wines, such as Moscato and Malvasia, as well as Sicily's fortified Marsala and Sardinia's Vernaccia di Oristano. Major wineries from elsewhere in Italy have been investing in the south, where the climate permits consistent quality from year to year to offer wines of premium class at reasonable prices.
